André Trigueiro. Mundo sustentável 2 – novos rumos para um planeta em crise. São Paulo: Editora Globo, Globo Livros. 400 p. ISBN: 978-85-250-5020-5. Price: 44,90 reais

André Trigueiro, journalist, Globo TV news anchor, writer and activist, came up with the idea for this book [the title translates as Sustainable World 2 – new pathways for a planet in crisis] when he was in the midst of updating his previous book [Sustainable World – seeking space in the media for a world in transformation], published in 2004. However, as the text grew, added new topics and involved new collaborators, it became a new book, slated to be a reference on contemporary environmental issues.

Trigueiro's new text deals with matters such as energy, biodiversity, water, solid waste, urban planning, sustainable production and consumption, health, education and the media. It focuses both on aspects that contribute to the crisis and on existing pathways and solutions that may lead to a new civilizational model.

Trigueiro's collaborators come from academe, indigenous peoples' movements, journalism, NGOs and environmental management agencies.

His regular activities at Globo TV include anchoring its daily ten o'clock nationally broadcast news show and producing and presenting Cidades e Soluções [Cities and Solutions], a 60-minute weekly investigative reporting program focused on specific environmental and urban planning matters.

He also created and maintains a widely accessed site - www.mundosustentavel.com.br
